

$$\begin{array}{r}
 292 \\
 \hline
 146 \\
 146 \\
 \hline
 292
 \end{array}$$

146

146

292

1111

A. J. Brown.

PREFACE.

LOCUST GROVE CEMETERY.

As there undoubtedly will be other Cemeteries in Twinsburg, I have named this as above. Each person that now owns or may hereafter own a lot in LOCUST GROVE CEMETERY will be furnished, gratuitous, with a copy of this work, that all interested may know what has been done up to the present time, and what is expected of them to do hereafter. Believing that such knowledge is all that is necessary to insure the co-operation of every one in keeping it a peaceable and respectable place to deposit our dead.

Respectfully,

ETHAN ALLING.

The authors of these pages, on the Early Settlement of Twinsburg, desire the preservation of this little book, believing that it will be read with interest by succeeding generations.

